

Agricultural.

The Stranger on the Hill.

BY T. B. READ.

Between broad fields of wheat and corn,
In the lowly home where I was born,
The peach tree leans against the wall,
And the woodbine wanders over all;
There is the shaded doorway still,
But a stranger's foot has crossed the sill.

There is the barn—and as of yore, I can smell the hay from the open door,
And see the busy swallows throng,
And hear the pewee's mournful song;
But the stranger comes—oh! painful proof—His cheeks are paled to the heath roof.

There is the orchard—the very trees, Where my childhood knew long hours of ease,
And watched the shadowy moment run, Till my life imbued more shadow than sun;
The swing from the bough still sweeps the air,
But the stranger's children are swinging there.

There bubbles the shady spring below,
With its bullrush brook where the hazels grow, 'Twas there I found the clamus root, And heard the robin lave his wing, But the stranger's bucket is at the spring.

Oh, ye who daily cross the sill, Step lightly for I love it still;
And when you crowd the old barn eaves, Then think what countless harvest sheaves, Have passed within that scented door,
To gladden eyes that are no more.

Deal kindly with those orchard trees,
And when your children crowd their knees, Their sweetest fruits they shall impart;
As if old memories stirred their heart;
To youthful spirit still leave the swing,
And in sweet reverance hold the spring.

The barn, the trees, the brooks, the birds,
The meadows with their lowering herds, The woodbine on the cottage wall—My heart still lingers with them all, Ye strangers on my native soil,
Step lightly, for I love it still.

Fruit Trees.

Now is just the best time of all the year for the setting of fruit trees. The land should be stirred deep, made rich, and well pulverized, the trees carefully set, and protected from the shaking of the winds by a stiff stake—and success is certain. Select your trees from nurseries not located too far at the south—let them be of hardy and prolific varieties—and be sure and deal with a nurseryman upon whose word and care you may depend.

Cotswold Sheep.

The recent letter of Col. Ware, of Virginia, concerning his Cotswold Sheep, is creating already a good deal of inquiry about the fleece and carcass qualities of the animal. Among those who have been applied to for information, are some of the heavy wool growers of Washington county, Pennsylvania. One of these has replied through the Washington Reporter. The gentleman, in 1845, for the purpose of experimenting, bought a thorough bred Cotswold bue, and 30 native ewes of only ordinary quality. From these he has since been breeding, permitting no other cross. He has attained nothing like the success of Col. Ware, either in size of the carcass or weight of fleece, but nevertheless well satisfied with the success of his experiments. He says the progeny of this breed are very large, well formed, and heavy coated. They are harder than the Saxony sheep. His have had no sheller, and though they are more hungry than the Saxons, they are more prolific than the fine stock, often dropping twins. And with reference to their flesh, he remarks that the butchers very readily pay him for lambs three months old, the average of the price he receives for three year old wethers of the Merino stock. Upon this point he further says:
"Were I living in the neighborhood of a large market, where mutton was a fashionable article of diet—as it ought to be every where—I would go largely into the description of sheep." The wool from his Cotswold cross is very long, and admirably adapted for blankets, worsted goods, &c. He clips as high as six and a half pounds to the fleece.

FATTENING CATTLE ON HAY.—Grass which is cut while it is in blossom, and carefully made, will fatten cattle nearly as well as a dry in a green state. Some of the best farmers in the western part of Vermont are particular in making their hay for this purpose. Mr. Bowdish, of Weybridge, whose stock is well known for its good qualities and fine condition, informed us that he found no difficulty in making his cattle thrive on hay. His oxen and steers are fed liberally on the best hay throughout the winter—with careful driving, they perform the farm labor in the spring without loss of flesh, and being turned on sweet pastures at the proper time, they get in high order for early beef for the Boston market, and always command a good price.

WATER PROOF FOR BOOTS.—Put a pound of tallow and half a pound of resin in a pot on the fire, when melted and mixed, warm the boots and apply the hot stuff with a painter's brush until neither the sole nor the upper will suck in any more. If it is desired that the boots should immediately take a polish, dissolve an ounce of wax in a teacupful of lamp-black. A day after the boots have been treated with the tallow and resin rub over them this wax in turpentine but not before the fire. Thus the exterior will have a coat of wax alone, and shines like a mirror. Tallow or any other grease becomes rancid, and rots gutting as well as the leather, but the rosin gives it an antiseptic quality which preserves the whole.
Boots should be so large as to admit of wearing of cork soles. Cork is so bad a conductor of heat that with it in the boots the feet are always warm on the coldest stone floor.

HENRY ZUPPINGER
September 12, 1849

THE Proprietors, full of confidence in the resources of DOCTOR SOULE'S SOVEREIGN Balm Pills which have gained for themselves such an enviable reputation in the short space of five years they have been before the public; the many cures they have performed—some of the patients having been confined to their beds for months and years—are truly astonishing, now challenge the world to produce their equal.
For long standing Dyspepsia and habitual Con- stipation, they have never failed, when taken according to directions, to effect a cure, or give permanent relief.

Old Liver Complaints, Jaundice, &c., can be Permanently cured, by the use of these Pills, as they operate directly upon the Liver, and cause it to perform its natural and healthy action.

For sudden attacks in children—such as Colds Fever, Worms, &c.—for Gravel, Rheumatism, Spinal Affections, Headache, Coughs and Colds, they have proved an invaluable Remedy.
FEVER AND AGUE AND CHILL FEVER.

No medicine yet discovered has proved so effectual in curing Ague and Fever, &c., in the Western States, as the SOVEREIGN Balm Pills. We have never known a single case, when taken according to directions where they have not effected a cure in from one to eight days.

They cleanse and purify the blood, and are therefore an effectual remedy for Scrofula Ery- sipelas, and all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood.

NERVOUS DEBILITY and FEMALE COM-PLAINTS, they have worked wonders. They quiet the nerves by removing the cause of Nervous Irritation, and gradually strengthen and bring up the whole system. By way of advice to females afflicted with the above diseases, we would say that large doses of any kind of cathartics are always injurious. These Pills should be taken one or two every night until a cure is effected—[See Circulars.]

These Pills were first introduced in a noiseless manner. No gaudy show cards or long advertisements filled with certificates from persons that never lived were resorted to, but were left to work their way into public favor on their own merits.

They are purely vegetable, mild but sure in their operation, and perfectly safe for young and old of debilitated constitution. They never leave the bowels costive, which cannot be said of any other pill now in use. Great care has been taken in selecting and compounding the medicine which has always been superintended by Dr.
SOULE in person.

For further directions, certificates, &c., see his New York Botanic Institute, published at Euclid, by Dr. E. L. SOULE & Co., which may be had of agents gratis.

Beware of Counterfeits!
As there are spurious Pills in circulation called Oriental or Sovereign Balm, be sure to see the face of the box, on which is "Dr. E. L. SOUL-& CO." on the face of the boxes. None others can be genuine. We are not aware that any one who is making a spurious article has yet dared to make use of our name; but some of them have had the impudence to imitate our boxes and copy our circulars, certificates &c. Unless the public are careful when they purchase, they will be deceived.

The genuine SOVEREIGN BALM PILLS can be had of John R. Moyer, Bloomsburg; Sloan & Thompson, Light Street; R. Moore, Danville; A. Levee and Co., Washingtonville; J. M. Sheldon, Jerseytown; Carr and McBride, Whitehall; Hoyce and McCormick, McEwensville; J. H.
Rater, Milton; J. D. Normande, Northumbria-land.
